

F.A.Q. WRESTLING STATE QUESTIONS

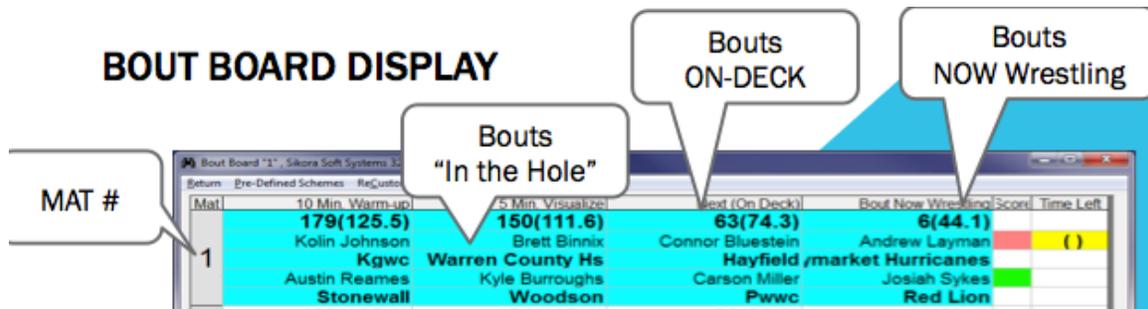

1) How do I know when my wrestler is wrestling?

Find your wrestlers bracket and find their bout number. The bout number is located in the space between your wrestler and his opponents name on the bracket. When you have their bout number, wait for it to appear on the bout board.

See question 2 & 3

2) What is the bout board?

The bout board alerts wrestlers when they need to report to the bull pen to check in for their match. Their name, their opponents, weight class and bout number will be on the bout board on the mat they will be wrestling on. Their bout number can be found on their bracket. See above on how to read a bracket.

6) Where is the bullpen and how do I get there?

Wrestlers and coaches with bands can access the bullpen from section 207 & 213. Please follow bout board for your match # (see wall brackets for bout number). When your bout number is on the bout board please report to the bullpen lines. The bullpen lines are separated by mat #. Please report to your mat number line until the Bout Runner Staff takes you to your mat.

If wrestler does not report to bullpen, their name will be announced and they will have 2 minutes to report. If wrestler does not report within 2 minutes, the match will be forfeited.

7) How much is admission for State? Does my child need a ticket?

Admission to Grade School & Junior High State is $15 per day. Wrestlers competing in the tournament will get their tickets during weigh ins. Children 5 and under will be admitted free.

Competing wrestlers are able to bring in a 16x12 cooler. No Family Coolers or food/drink carried in by non participants.

8) How do I get on the floor and coach my wrestler?

To access the floor to coach your wrestler, you must purchase a coach band at the box office ticket window. You must purchase an admission ticket to enter the arena. Coaches bands are $15 online ($20 at the door) and good for all weekend. To access the floor, you must be with your wrestler as the Bout Runner brings them to the floor. Coaches will not be brought to the floor without a wrestler. Only two coaches are permitted in the corner. They must be seated. Anyone coaching from the side of the mat and is not one of the 2 coaches in the chair will result in a 1-point match penalty. All coaches must have a Coach Band visible on their wrist.

Coaches must purchase an admission ticket to enter the arena. The coaching pass does not grant admission into the arena.

By purchasing and wearing the Coach Band you agree to:

- Display respect for the officials. Have the willingness to accept their decisions
- Have an understanding and appreciate the rules of the contest
- Appreciate skill in performance of all participants and tournament staff
